Child Burned in Horrible Manner When Clothes Catch Fire from Open Grate

Two-year-old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wise, E. Orange st. Victim of Deplorable Accident Friday Afternoon

Cordelia the two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wise of East Orange street, was horribly burned about the arms, breast and face, about three o'clock Friday afternoon, when a cape that she was wearing caught fire from an open grate.

The child had been taken by her mother to the home of a neighbor and was wrapped in a long cape, which upon the return home had not been removed. While warming herself by the open grate the child stepped too near the fire and the cape became ignited.

Mother Uses Rug

The screams of the little girl attracted the attention of the mother in the room adjoining, who with the aid of a rug which she quickly wrapped about it, quickly extinguished the flame, but not until the little girl had been severely burned.

Skin Hangs in Shreds

The left arm was burned the most severely, the skin hanging in shreds in places on the lower part of the arm. The chin was also quite severely burned as was the upper part of the chest and neck. Dr. Lear was summoned to render medical attention, and did all in his power to allay the pain. The child was still suffering considerably at a late hour Friday evening but it is thought that the burns will not prove fatal.

BULLET REMOVED FROM LEG

Asa Poole of Sycamore street, who shot himself in the leg while handling a revolver last Sunday, was operated on Friday and the bullet removed.

Poole did not tell his parents about the accident for two days after it happened. The wound had become so inflamed that it was impossible to remove the lead at the time and it was not until Friday that it was sufficiently improved to permit of the operation.

ELBEN GUARDIANSHIP CASE WILL BE SETTLED

While the famous Levi Elben guardianship case was being continued by consent of the parties concerned Friday, J. C. Milligan appointed guardian of the aged pensioner several months ago, filed his first account in probate court and announced that he would resign as soon as the same is approved. This means that the matter will be dropped.

Nothing for Services

In his report, Mr. Milligan shows that he has received the

Constable Jim Surely Busy Man

Constable James Wright is the sleuth, who never sleeps. Last night, in discussing his eternal vigilance, the officer stated that he had gone three days and two nights without sleep or rest this week in an effort to run down some matters. Although he refused to give out his "Sherlock Holmes" movements, he stated that it in no way concerned the election.

Roy Thomas is Promoted

Roy Thomas, who several months ago accepted a position as traveling salesman with a big map concern has been promoted, it is understood, with offices in Marysville, O.

Instead of traveling in the future, Mr. Thomas will have charge of a large corps of men to whom he will assign territory and instruct them in their work.

Son of Rev. White is Seriously Ill

Coshocton friends of Rev. Mr. White formerly pastor of the local United Brethren church, have received word from Akron stating that Harold, the little son of Rev. and Mrs. White, is seriously ill and little hope for his recovery is entertained. The lad has been an invalid from his infancy.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY ALSO VOTES "WET"

MAJORITY FAVORING THE SALOONS IN FRIDAY'S ELECTION ESTIMATED AT 2000. DRY MAJORITY IN 1908 WAS 1580.

East Liverpool, O., Nov. 3.—By an overwhelming majority, estimated at 2,000, Columbiana county decided to return to the wet fold, in today's local option election. The dry majority three years ago was 1,580, when 48 saloons were voted out.

County Seat Dry

This city rolled up a wet majority of 1004 and there were correspondingly large gains throughout the county. The towns of Salem, Leetonia, Wellsville and Salineville, also gave wet majorities but Lisbon, the county seat, remained in the dry column by a small majority. In the campaign, which was a warm one, the dries were led by Rev. H. A. Kelsey, pastor of the U. P. church while the Property and Tax Protective association had charge of the wet campaign.

Fatal Steam Roller Draws Curious Crowd

Contractor John Kleinknecht and a force of men loaded on a flat car in the local Pennsy railway yards Friday evening, the big steam road roller, which several days ago, claimed the life of Gilbert Rutledge on the Keene road.

A Curious Crowd

Quite a crowd of the curious crowd gathered about the car to have a look at the big piece of machinery and especially the driving shaft that "whipped" Rutledge to death. It required much blocking and several hours hard work to get the heavy weight on to the car. The roller is owned by a Cleveland firm and was borrowed by Mr. Kleinknecht to be used on the job of picking a stretch of road near Keene.

Military Maneuvers Come High

Washington, Nov. 3.—The cost of the protective measures taken by the United States along the Mexican border last spring, became known for the first time today with the publication of the annual report of Brigadier General J. B. Alesha, quarter master general of the army. From March 6, when orders for the mobilization were issued to the end of the fiscal year June 30, the total expense was $1,730,526. This is almost the grand total as by June a large part of the expense had been cut down.

RODGERS GROWING GRADUALLY WEAKER

William Rodgers, who has been hovering between life and death for the past several days, continues to gradually grow weaker, and at an early hour this morning death was momentarily expected.

Just by Way of Calling "Vitriol Bottle" Bluff with "Ordinary Pencil"

In an article appearing in the Democratic organ Friday afternoon, the editor calls upon The Tribune to admit that it lied when it made the statement "that there is no power, save that of Providence in furnishing Coshocton with a copious rain supply during the heated term next summer, that can prevent in 1912, a repetition of the dangers and annoyances and suffering which have been its portion during the summers of 1909, 1910 and 1911." In fact the words "lie" and "liar," not to mention other terms of opprobrium, "ent" from said article would leave little despite the following, which is gleaned from the editorial columns of the same sheet, same date: "Life is too short to be continually abusing those who don't agree with us, so we advise our newspaper friends to drop the vitriol bottle and take up the ordinary pencil."

SOME TAKE ON HAND

Realizing that The Times is having "troubles of her own" in carrying her party candidate for mayor on one shoulder and the party candidates for council on the other, between whom there has never been any harmony nobow, The Tribune has so far refrained from adding to the "old girl's" embarrassment by calling that colossal bluff about the Holly people having taken the job, filed bond for the completion of a water works pump by April 1, 1912, that they have been working on said pump for the past sixty days and that actually, the pump MUST be in operation by the first day of next April.

However, the bluff has been persisted in so long that apparently our esteemed contemporary is confident that he will safely get away with it and if we must, we must.

NO EXCUSE FOR IGNORANCE

"There was no excuse for the stink factory being ignorant today of the fact in the waterworks pump matter" says The Times. Taking it for granted that he was referring to us when he used that odious term, despite his advice editorially, we'll admit we had no excuse for ignorance on said matter. On the other hand, we insist The Times should have no excuse for ignorance of the fact that the statutes provide that no contract can be let by the officials of a municipality before it has been certified by the city auditor that the necessary funds are in the treasury or in process of collection. Last Tuesday, was published in The Times the first legal notice advertising the bonds to provide funds for the purchase of a waterworks pump. These bonds must be advertised for four weeks and naturally the said funds will not find their way into the treasury until they are sold. Now, how in the name of the great horn spoon, has this alleged pump contract been let? By what authority did the Holly people start work on the alleged pump sixty days ago?

"HARMONY"—IT IS TO SMILE

The Times calls upon The Tribune to interview certain councilmen and secure proof of its bluff. These councilmen as well as others have been interviewed and are on record in this pump matter and The Times knows it. The Times knows that Mayor Casingham and the remainder of the board of control were at loggerheads with council on pump matter from the time it was first taken up until several weeks ago, when public opinion became so strong that the board was forced to apparently give up in its demand for an electrically driven pump. That talk of "harmony," therefore, is good for only a smile.

IT CAN BE UNDONE

In conclusion, we wish to reiterate and make it as strong as possible, that absolutely nothing has been done in the matter of purchasing a new pump for the waterworks, that cannot be undone by a new council if it feels so inclined. The great majority of the citizens of Coshocton, we believe, favor the steam pump for reasons, with which the public is familiar and The Times is well aware of the fact that only the persistence of the present city council is responsible for the board of control being so far blocked in its scheme for the electric type.

Local Man Invents All-metal Auto Tire

William H. Carroll of Chestnut and Fifth streets has perfected an automobile tire and is at present asking for a patent, which if as successful as machinists of the city think, will revolutionize the automobile industry and make the tire "bugbear" fade into oblivion.

The Tire Question

The big upkeep cost of automobiles was in the start, and is now, the rubber, or tire question. An ordinary 30-horsepower car wearing a 34 by 3 1/2 tire represents an annual outlay of $120 or more.

The contention is if a tire can be built of springs and materials other than rubber the cost of operating a machine can be materially reduced so that the man of moderate means can own such a vehicle as easily as he at present drives a horse and carriage.

All Metal Tire

The new tire is built of springs and strips of metal held together with fabric. No rubber, it is understood, enters into its construction. The resiliency and shock absorbing qualities being taken care of by a heavy coil spring which fills the same space at present occupied by the inflated inner tube. The tread of the tire is composed of a heavy, case-hardened steel sheeting which takes care of the wear resulting from road friction.

All a Failure

It is understood, upwards of a dozen machines have been turned out by the Keagy & Lear and other machine shops of the city, to make the coil spring. So far, none of them have accomplished the results expected of it by the inventor and for this reason have been discarded.

Machine for Spring

William Seigrist, one of the best known and most capable machinists of the city, employed at the Coshocton Automobile Works, it is understood, is at present working on what promises to be a perfect machine for the manufacturing of the huge coil spring which is expected to take the place of the inflated tire. A tire eliminating the use of rubber, is said, to be the trend of the tire is composed (Continued on Page Eight)

By reversing the decision of Judge Nicholas in common pleas court, the circuit court, in its decisions handed down Friday, held that the local dealers against whom the Aikin tax was certified, are entitled to have a portion of the same refunded, providing they satisfy the auditor that they have gone out of business. The decision was given in the test case brought by T. S. Elson, in which he prayed for a writ of mandamus to compel Auditor Mowrey to make the refund. Naturally, the decision will apply to the remainder of the liquor cases at present being held up on the common pleas docket. Whether or not the matter will be carried to the supreme court has not been determined.

Another Splendid Bill by Earle Stock

A good sized crowd attended the performance of "The Girl of the Sunny South" presented by the Earle Stock at the Sixth street theatre Thursday evening.

Miss Bessie Jackson as Grace

Seurelle played the part of the typical girl of the south in an ideal manner, as did H. Billy Bretz the part of the English tourist.

J. Rodger Howard as Seedy Punkin, the tramp, and Miss Alice Jackson as Mandy a southern negro, kept the audience in a constant uproar of laughter. Miss Jackson's comical expressions and funny antics scoring the hit of the evening.

James McCoy furnished an excellent vaudeville specialty, showing something new and exceptional in entertaining in juggling "stunts."

The feature bill of the week's performance will be "Wormwood" which will be presented this evening. It is an interesting play showing the degrading effects of the drinking of absolute in France.

CONTROVERSY AT ODEN VALLEY MINE SETTLED

Because J. Darling refused to act as engineer and dump dirt at the same time at the Oden Valley Coal Co. mine near Coshocton, work was held up a short time Wednesday afternoon but resumed full blast yesterday morning. It seems Mr. Darling claimed that both occupations carry a separate seal. The matter was amicably settled by the miners, the operators not joining in the discussion.

James Fitch, who has been superintendent of the mines for the past several years has resigned and has been succeeded by C. W. Scott a man of much experience in mines. Up until accepting the position with the Oden people, Mr. Scott was roadman at the Morgan Run Mining Co.'s property.

Shooting a Fish. A fact known by every one is the peculiar movement of a stick when thrust into clear water. It is due to the refraction or bending of light. Now, if one saw a fish in fresh water and desired to shoot it the gun must be pointed under the fish, for it must be remembered that the fish appears as if the submerged end of the stick too far up. If the fish was directly under the observer, however, the light would not be bent, and it could be shot straight at. — Chicago Record-Herald.

TALK BY PERSONAL FRIEND OF LINCOLN

The students of the Coshocton High school experienced a rare treat yesterday afternoon when they listened to the address of Dr. Barcroft, a well known educator and lecturer. Dr. Barcroft is an elderly man, but he was a personal friend of our martyred president, Abraham Lincoln, and what he has to tell of his personal reminiscences of Lincoln have an intense interest for every patriotic American citizen from the smallest school boy to the grandfathers. Dr. Barcroft had with him a number of relics that added materially to the interest of his lecture, and assisted in impressing his audience of high school students with many a vivid and realistic of memories of Lincoln.

Aguinaldo Now Tiller of the Soil

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Aguinaldo former leader of the Filipinos, is leading a quiet life as a well-to-do farmer according to Judge G. W. Trent, a member of the Supreme Court of the Philippines, who, with Mrs. Trent, is on his way back to Manila, after a vacation of six months, most of which he spent in his old home in Tennessee.

"Aguinaldo," said Judge Trent, "is a farm of several thousand acres in Cavite, just across the bay from Manila. He rarely visits Manila, and on the occasions he does go there it is generally as a witness in a court case. Apparently the once noted insurrectionist has lost all political ambition and desires only to be left alone to pursue his occupation. I am told that he is a good farmer, and that he is making money out of agriculture. He never talks about the insurrection days and declines to discuss politics. If he were to seek an elective office I have no doubt that he would be chosen for he is still popular with the native Filipinos."

Moleskin Warriors Work Hard

The high school moleskin warriors were again hard at practice Thursday evening, a practice game being played for 15 minutes with the second team which resulted in the score of 10 to 0 favoring the varsity.

Coach Bridge is putting the boys through a hard week's practice in preparation for the game to be played at Zanesville Saturday. Many new line plays and shift formations are being drilled on and the boys expect to bring home the beam from Zanesville in the practice game. Thursday Clark and Sweet showed great form in both offense and defense.

Sweet the new man, who has been starring in every game is being tried out at quite in the absence of Crowther, who is the regular man at that position.

His Strong Won.

A ragged wayward boosted a well dressed pedestrian on Fifth avenue and said:

"It's up to you whether I flop."

"I construe this," said the well dressed one, "to be the usual request for money. There is a quarter. It is not much. I will pay it to you for a donation of flop as you use the word."

"Flop," explained the ragged one, grinning, "means to sleep. I make a book they nick your yard for ten swell slogs every time you flop. Take it from me, kid, ten of those in our set is good for an even hundred nights."

"There is $10, then," smiled the well dressed one. "Flop a hundred." — New York Globe.

LITTLE FAULTS.

Beware how you regard as trifling faults which appear of but little consequence. You weigh them and think them nothing, but count them and you will be frightened at their number. Why not look yourself over frankly and honestly, discover your little faults and correct them? These cleared away, you may more easily see the larger ones, if there be any.

Looking Glasses.

The value of a looking glass is usually estimated by the thickness of the glass, because the thicker it is the stronger it must be; but, speaking scientifically, thick glasses are defective, because the outlines of the image reflected are less clearly defined. There are really three reflections and consequently three images in every glass mirror—one from the upper surface of the glass, the second from the lower surface and the third from the metallic layer at the back. An ideal mirror is one with a perfectly flat surface. But it is only possible to obtain this result in comparatively small glasses. The larger glasses do not reflect a true image, as they can't be made quite flat.

Father Seemed Right.

The organist was not lacking in patriotism, yet he rebelled when requested to play "The Star Spangled Banner" at a wedding.

"It is not appropriate," he said. "Ain't it?" said the bride's father. "For this wedding it is the most appropriate thing you can play. Cut all the rest of the program if you like, but stick to that. I had the hardest kind of a fight to keep Belle's mother from marrying her off to a foreigner. Between Belle and me we won out for an American, and if this isn't the time for the 'Star Spangled Banner' I'd like to know what is." — New York Sun.

Good Yield of Sorghum O.S.U. Farm

A four-acre patch of sorghum on the Ohio State University farm is yielding from 16 to 20 tons of green feed per acre. This feed is being given, in the place of silage, to all the University live stock, horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. The two big silos on the farm have been filled with corn silage but they will not be opened as long as the sorghum lasts. When the sorghum is fed in the barns it is first run through a cutting box, but outside it is fed in bulk, the stock getting all they will eat.

The crop was ready to cut about the middle of September, and up to this time about 40 tons have been used. It is cut and hauled out as needed. Mr. Fyffe says that stock relish sorghum and that they do well on it. He thinks that farmers who are short of pasture would do well to investigate this crop.

"AN ANCIENT DRAMA"

The Book of Esther

The book of Esther is a dramatic portrayal of the fears and hopes of a captive people. In many respects it is superior to "The Merchant of Venice." It is, in all respects, superior to any modern "play." It is founded upon experience; "truth is stranger than fiction."

In this book one is instructed as to the customs and ways of men in the "long ago." In a human nature is portrayed with striking vividness: The pride, bigotry, arbitrary power of a monarch; the noble courage of woman-kind; the shrewdness, loyalty, and patience of the Jew; the love of position, preference and power. It is a "human" book from beginning to end. In it is depicted the full scale of human attributes.

The great lesson to be learned from the book is found in the contrast between Haman and Mordecai. Haman was a materialist, pure and simple. Mordecai was a religiousist. Neither was perfect; but Haman was intent on saving his own life; Mordecai was intent on saving a people. It is the old, age long conflict between materialism and spirituality. There will always be enmity between "Hamanism" and "Mordecaiism." There will always be conflict between selfishness and altruism.

It must be conceded that the men of this book, with the possible exception of Mordecai, are inferior to the women. Queen Vashti refused to obey the King's vicious command. Esther risked her life for her people. They seem to have been moved by finer and more noble motives than were the men. Though they lived in a "man-made-world," with all its pride, selfishness, bigotry, passion, and arbitrary power, they possessed a most noble conception of life and conduct. Each of them is living, examples of great principle. One for purity, the other for self-sacrifice.

Men moved by pride, bigotry, selfishness, passion, love of power, position and pelf, make a terrible bungle of things. They rob women of their virtue, children of their birth-right; despoil the poor; make captive the weak; bring on terrible conflicts between races and classes and nations of men.

There is but one way of escape from the defeat of a civilization so founded and erected, and that way is the way of purity and self-sacrifice. We who are men, worthy of the name, ought to make these two principals the pillars of character.

Winds Up in Prison

Minister Who Wanted to Be Romantic Answers Advertisement.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—Because he was worried over the advertisement of May Baker, who wanted a bookkeeper's job, and offered her the "position of wife," the Rev. W. A. Ferrell, a prominent Methodist preacher of Gaffney, S. C., spent seven hours behind the bars.

Mr. Ferrell has been in Atlanta several days on a vacation, and when he saw Miss Baker's ad, signed "Anxious," he decided to answer. The preacher wrote to "Anxious" as follows:

"You are seeking a bookkeeper's position and I am seeking a wife. If you prefer matrimony to bookkeeping, we will talk it over. Meet me at the postoffice. Please wear a little white bow on your left side or left shoulder. This will identify you. I am anxious for a nice, sweet wife and I want it to be a romantic affair."

When Miss Baker got the letter she thought she had to do with a madman and notified a city detective. The detective had her go to the postoffice wearing the white bow.

Mr. Ferrell was on hand and when he approached Miss Baker he was arrested and taken to prison, where he was held until friends got him out. At the prison Mr. Ferrell said his offer of marriage was bona fide and that his sole purpose was to do something romantic.

Judge Broyles said the minister had violated no law and that he would dismiss the case.

The Tool He Used.

"I was throwing up dirt from an excavation in the pavement one day," said an old laborer, "when a little old chap with white hair stopped to look on. I was as big as two of him. After a minute or two I rested on my shovel and looked up at him. Said I: 'If you had to do work with a shovel for your living you'd starve to death before you could make a trench deep enough to bury you in.' 'I thought that was a smart thing to say, and I laughed. Then he answered me. He was a slow speaking man with a sort of drawl. 'I might starve—as you say,' he said, 'and yet I have a trade in which I use a tool very much like yours. In fact many people who work at my trade use the tool to shovel dirt and fill—with—as you do—with—yours. This is—the tool.' He handed me a steel pen. 'Is it a joke?' I asked. 'It is—a tool—to—make—them—with, he nodded. 'That is—part—of my trade. My name is—Twain—Mark Twain.' 'I have the pen yet,' concluded the laborer, 'and no dirt was ever shoveled with it.'—New York Globe.

MRS. VERMILYA REMAINS CALM

Hears Result of Coroner's Finding Without a Quiver.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, in whose home nine persons have died under peculiar circumstances, was awakened out of a sound sleep and told by detectives who had guarded her throughout the night that poison had been found in the viscera of Policeman Arthur Bisognette, whose death brought the woman under police scrutiny. The startling information failed to cause even a quiver in Mrs. Vermilya's face.

While the police have refused to divulge the contents of the report of the toxicologists, it was learned from authoritative sources that when the coroner makes public the statement it will show that two grains of arsenic had been found in Bisognette's viscera. An arrest may follow immediately after the publication of the report.

Mrs. Vermilya was guarded throughout the night by a trained nurse and two detectives. Doubling of the police guard around the woman followed several hours of vigorous questioning, during which many discrepancies in Mrs. Vermilya's first story to the police were disclosed. The remarkable nonchalance of the woman throughout the examination surprised the police. Then she fairly took them off their feet.

She asked them to summon a lawyer in order that she might make her will. Scarcely had the lawyer left her home when Mrs. Vermilya declared she was ill with a stomach complaint similar to those from which each of the nine persons with whose deaths her name is connected died. Doubling of the guard of detectives and attendance of a nurse during the night was ordered immediately.

Hazel West, divorced wife of the late Frank Brinkman, a stevedore of Mrs. Vermilya, has been located in New York, where a Chicago detective has gone to question her. Brinkman was one of the nine persons who died under mysterious circumstances in Mrs. Vermilya's home. Prior to his divorce, according to police information, he had made a compact with Hazel West, providing in case of either's death the other would have a postmortem examination performed upon the dead person.

Dope for the Bugs

James H. O'Rourke, sr., has just been made president, vice president secretary and treasurer of the Connecticut league. He is the only baseball man in the country who is the entire performance in his circuit.

Muggsy McGraw is still handing out bouquets to the Athletic players. Rather an unusual procedure for "Mug." The softening influence of age are even leaving their gentle impress on the "scrap" per from Baltimore.

The next political event in baseball is the meeting of the minor leagues, large and small, at San Antonio, the middle of the month. It is at this meeting that the Class A leagues hope to get backing to ask for reforms from the national commission.

If the national commission passes a rule to prevent baseball players from writing stories for papers during a world series, they will find it useless. The big papers have beaten the commission to it.

Charley Hall, former Columbus pitcher, but now with the Boston Red Sox, will wed a Miss Cullen of Boston, next Sunday. This is Hall's second matrimonial venture.

Connie Mack said at the dinner given to J. Franklin Baker in Philadelphia the other night that Jimmy Collins was the greatest third baseman the game of baseball has known. There are a great many players and fans who approve Mack's judgment.

Clark Griffith is going to Washington has the satisfaction of taking with him from Cincinnati the best wishes of the players of the Cincinnati team.

Baseball in the Canal Zone has borne fruit. It is said to have become the most popular game in Venezuela. Perhaps the day will come when it will be played the world over, as is tennis and golf today.

Vin Campbell batted .309 as pinch hitter for the Pirates.

Bob Bescher, Cincinnati, led the National league base stealers with 80 thefts. Josh Devore was second with 64.

Mexican government will not interfere with betting at Juarez race track during winter meeting to open Nov. 30.

Sam Langford sailed Wednesday for Australia on the Zealandia, which was held in Seattle for him.

John McGraw picks Mike Kelley and Roger Bresnahan at the best catchers baseball ever produced, and Lajoie as the best second baseman.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, Phila. hot-out, is willing to sign immediately for next season. Alexander held out on the advice of a former scout for the club, who was to get a piece of the extra money if Fazio and the pitcher's terms.

Jimmy Barrett, Milwaukee manager, has an offer to scout for Detroit.

Roger Bresnahan stands ready to trade First Baseman Ed Knoche for a good pitcher or two, it is said.

Springfield business men have pledged themselves to subscribe enough stock to assure a Cental League berth for their city in case W. H. Watkins can get the territory away from the Ohio State League.

All the M's of the G. O. team will stay at home and not take the trip to Cuba this winter. The M's are Mathewson, McKibbin, Murray, Meyers and Macdonald.

Wilbur Schardt, the young Brooklyn star has already signed a contract for next season with the Trolley Dodgers.

Vic Willis, former Pittsburgh and St. Louis pitcher, is in a critical condition at his home in Newark, N. J. Willis is suffering from typhoid fever and there is but slight hope for his recovery.

Home Run Baker has been offered $150 per week to appear in vaudeville.

Miller Huggins is going to try and get his release from the Cardinals. Huggins wants to manage the Cincinnati Reds.

Many Thousands Suffer From Kidney Trouble

Your valuable remedy, Swamp-Root, is the cream of all medicines. It must be twenty-five years since I first learned its merits and I proclaim there is nothing in the medical line that will give quicker and more satisfactory relief than Swamp-Root. When the kidneys and stomach are out of order and need repair, Swamp-Root will surely do it. I only regret that so many thousands of people suffer and that they have never learned or found out what this great remedy would do for them if they only gave it a fair trial.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN G. MUNCH,
Sandwich, Ill.

captain and third baseman will manage Jersey City in the Eastern league next season.

Mathewson and Brown, for years the greatest pitchers season in and season out, are gradually going back and two seasons will find them outlived in their usefulness as footers of the National league batters. Each has declined in physical ability for the past three years, but their bulldog determination and cunning has stood them instead. Brown's setting star shot downward when his curves and cunning failed to stop the Athletics last season. The peerless Mathewson succumbed to the terrific hitting of the Athletics in the recent world series and the Great Mathewson knows that his cunning is also escaping.

New York, Nov. 3.—Baseball men here predict the re-election of Thomas J. Lynch to the presidency of the National league next month, without serious opposition. Gerry Hermann, who is one of Lynch's strongest supporters, says that the campaign "will prove exciting."

FOOTBALL GOSSIP

Willie Weston following the usual mental procedure of "aged" men, has just come through with an interview telling of how good Michigan teams were in the old days. Signs of approaching age, Willie.

Yale has been very unfortunate this year in the way of injuries. Some of her best men, notably Howe and Scully, have been hit worst.

Center Evans of the Western Reserve eleven is the heaviest college football player in Ohio. He weighs to 232 pounds. Can any other man beat it?

One of the maladies which has not yet affected any member of the Case squad is the cholera. Everything else has happened on the gloomy and behind the machine shop.

Seventeen different tribes are represented on the Carlisle Indian football squad.

Conklin has been sent back to tackle by Coach Yost and Garrels returned to end. Wells, All American end in 1910, has been permanently placed at halfback.

Panama has finished its heavy work for the coming year with Harvard. The term is in full condition. Outsiders appear to favor the chances of the Crimson to win the game.

Western Reserve expects to place all her regulars against Oberlin Saturday except Guard Wells. He is still unable to bear the brunt of battle.

Pennsylvania has sent out a call for coaches to come and assist Andy Smith in whipping the Quakers into some kind of shape for their struggle with the Indians Saturday. From the past performance of both elevens it looks like a massacre.

Cleveland football writers declare that Stimpson of Oberlin is another Glen Gray in his work. They rate him as second to no halfback in Ohio. End Rush Young, Fullback Fisher and Kerr at quarter are also given praise.

Chicago and Minnesota are scheduled to play their annual battle at the week end. The outcome of the game is pretty hard to predict. The Maroon forces are stronger than a year ago and the Gopher machine is weaker, so, an even battle ought to result.

Minnesota

Minneapolis, Nov. 3.—A crowd as large as the one which attended the Chicago-Minnesota game of two years ago is predicted for Saturday's struggle at Northrup field between these same two elevens, by Helen Leach, manager of university athletics. Even the favorite ones were barred from last night's practice of the Gophers, and little is known of what came off behind barred gates. Coach Williams sent the team through its entire list of plays, and particular attention was paid to those which the team has not yet been forced to use.

Michigan

Ann Arbor, Nov. 3.—The Ann Arbor show of the Michigan team in the Vanderbilt game of last Saturday and the accident to McMillan has caused Yost to make the biggest shift of the last few years. The team that lined up yesterday afternoon had Conklin at tackle instead of end. Wells was at right half instead of right end. Pontius and Garrels covered the ends. Kaynor, who was put on the varsity squad Tuesday afternoon for the first time, at left guard. Bogle at right tackle. Quinn at right guard. Picard at quarterback. Thomson at full and Torbet at left half. By this shift Yost has two green ends, but they are of the range type that seem to be demanded under the new rules, and he is looking for them to be the best combination on the extremities of the line. Both Pontius and Garrels are playing their first year of varsity football. Pontius having been at end and guard. Yost left last evening for the east, where he will see the Penn-Carlisle game.

Wisconsin

Madison, Nov. 3.—Real winter weather put in its first appearance at Camp Randall yesterday and instilled enough ginger into coach Richard's varsity team to enable it to beat White's freshman aggregation, 22 to 0. Charlie Pollock scored two of the regulars' touchdowns, Van Riper and Captain Buser being the other point gainers for the varsity. Eddie Gillette signaled his return by a one-hundred-yard run through a broken field, being forced out of bounds on freshman five-yard line. Practice was marred by numerous fumbles, caused by the extreme cold. Branstad played good ball at center, smacking into the freshman line and breaking up Iowa formations with monotonous regularity. Mack Miller's work at guard was the feature of the practice. Andy O'Dea, former coach of Wisconsin, and trainer of varsity football teams in the days of Phil King, was a visitor at practice.

Northwestern

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The Northwestern football squad started practice again yesterday after a rest of three days since its game with Wisconsin. Coach Hammett thought it better not to start scrimmaging on the first day, and so simply put the men through an hour of signal practice. Several players are suffering from injuries received in last Saturday's game. McPherson, although he is in bad condition on account of a sprained back, was out for practice and was placed at left end. He and Pierce are being tried out for the ends and both showed up well in practice. McPherson's place at left tackle is being filled by Mortenson.

TOM O'ROURKE QUILTS JOB

Resigns From National and Royal Sporting Clubs

New York, Nov. 3.—Members of the state athletic commission, rulers of boxing, received a letter from Tom O'Rourke yesterday announcing the latter's retirement from the National Sporting Club. O'Rourke also notified the commission that he would tender his resignation as an officer of the Royal A. C. of Brooklyn at the next meeting of that club. O'Rourke's letter brought about a discussion that continued for three hours. Members of the commission accepted it as a clever move to evade responsibility for recent happenings.

BREWER LEADER IN DOUBT

Hugh Duffy, Johnny Kling and George Stovall Now Mentioned.

Milwaukee, Nov. 3.—Gossip is busy with managerial possibilities for the Milwaukee team in the American Association, and among those mentioned are Hugh Duffy, Johnny Kling and George Stovall. Bill Glymer, President of the New York State League, is also a suggestion, but the owners say they have not discussed the question.

May Seek Minor League Berth

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 3.—The Richmond ball park has been leased for a term of three years, from May 1, 1912, to Peter Huston and Daniel C. Hill. There may be an effort made to place Richmond in one of the minor leagues next season, though the chance of getting a berth appears remote.

Yankee Not Stars Sail

Victor, B. C., Nov. 3.—The American tennis team, who will come etc for the Davis world's championship cup, sailed for Auckland yesterday. The team includes W. H. Larned, United States champion; Beals, C. Wright at Maurice McLaughlin and for Christchurch, New Zealand.

UP-TO DATE NEWS FROM THE WORLD OF BOXERS

Seattle, Nov. 3.—Porky Flynn, the middleweight prize fighter, won his way from Boston to catch the steamer Zealandia, which sailed yesterday from Vancouver, B. C., for Australia. Superintendents of the railroads by which he traveled to the Pacific had given instructions to keep Flynn's train on time. Flynn is under engagement for five fights in Australia.

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 3.—Two terrific rights to the jaw sent Mickey McDonald to the floor for the count in the sixth round of a mill with Andy Morris of Boston, at the New Bedford A. C., here last night.

Nashville, Nov. 3.—Mike Saul, of Atlanta, and Battling Kelly, of Brooklyn, fought eight fast rounds to a draw here last night at the Fox-Tenth Avenue Gymnasium Club. Although the result was announced as a draw Kelly had a shade the better of the bout.

New York, Nov. 3.—Bert Keys battered Monte Dale, of Denver, Colo., for ten rounds in the first bout at the Sharkey A. C., last night. Keys's body punches raised welts that stood out over Dale's kidneys. Three times the Colorado boxer was felled, and twice the bell saved him from the K. K. tag against his record.

Chattanooga, Nov. 3.—Terry Nelson, of Philadelphia, and Tommy Moran, of Brooklyn, have signed articles to meet before the Chattanooga Athletic Club in an eight-round bout November 7. Nat Dewey will meet Topeka Jack Johnson in a second main bout.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—An offer was received today by Jack White, local lightweight, for a battle with Abe Attell in Cleveland, November 28. The Cleveland promoters made their proposition following the excellent showing made by White against Patsy Kline in Cleveland, Monday night.

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—Buck Cronse, of Pittsburg, knocked out his old ring enemy, Billy Berger, Wednesday night in the fourth round of their bout before the Duquesne Athletic Club at Duquesne garden. It was a rip-roaring battle while it lasted, each man being out to get the edge on coming matches for middleweight honors.

Edie T. Young of San Jose, Cal., well known featherweight pugilist, has announced he will enter the ministry and bit become an evangelist. "Religion needs men who can put a kick in it," said Young. "I am there with the kick and now you can sit back and watch me slip the devil some of the old sleep drops."

Johnny Kilbane and Abe Attell will meet in a 20-round bout in New Orleans in the near future. Kilbane stands an excellent chance to winning the featherweight crown from Attell.

Johnny Conlon bantam champion of the world has announced that his brother Ben Conlon will act as his manager, since the recent death of his father. Conlon's first fight since the death of his father will be with Patsy Brennan at Johnstown, Pa.

Young Saylor of Indianapolis had to forfeit $250 to Joe Mandol, because he could not make 130 pounds the weight called for. He was knocked out besides.

Ann Arbor Mich., Nov. 2.—Moving along with ever increasing momentum and leaving behind a glow trail in the middle of the west, the Michigan gridiron warriors are now ready to lay violent

Army has Discovered New Boot Artist in Lamphier

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The coaches were surprised by his long punts and his accurate drop kicking. It is expected that he will do most of the booting in the big game with the Navy boys in Philadelphia November 25.

Revolutionists Take Shanghai

Shanghai, Nov. 3.—The arsenal and the native city of Shanghai were taken over by the revolutionists. No resistance was offered by the authorities or such of the public as remains loyal. It is expected that Wu-Sung, at the mouth of the Wu-Hu Sung river and 10 miles north of Shanghai, and the up-river ports, will soon fall. It is confidently believed that Nan-King and Ching-Kiang will also be captured by the rebels.

Some of the foreign warships landed marines in this city before the rebels took possession. Foreign volunteers have been called out and have taken every precaution to protect the concessions. It is reported that the rebels at Kiu-Kiang have seized the British tugboat Sampson. The rebel throng grew to greater proportions and in the excitement a number of shots were fired by the government forces in the direction of the mob, but these were without effect, and it was plain that the Chinese soldiers, the police and the native soldiers were all in sympathy with the revolutionists. At this point the Taotai fled and the arsenal and native city quietly capitulated.

The revolutionary leaders here have telegraphed General Li Yuen Heng, the head of the rebel movement advising him to cease hostilities pending developments at Peking. Their message is being forwarded to General Li from Wu-Hu by special dispatch boat.

Complaints reached this city that the rebels holding the forts below Kiu-Kiang have been firing indiscriminately at passing steamers in the night time.

Reforms to Be Adopted. Peking, Nov. 3.—Among the reforms which will be inaugurated under the new regime are: Rescinding of the powers of Prince Pu Lan and other Manchurian nobles, to frame a constitution, order to cut off queues; disbandment of the Eight Banners, the Manchurian military division; abolition of all Manchurian civil pensions; compulsory adoption of Chinese surnames by Manchurian families; adoption of the western calendar for China.

Fighting Continues. Shanghai, Nov. 3.—Although Yuan Shih-Kai, the new Chinese premier and commander-in-chief of the imperialist land and naval forces in the south, has ordered an armistice between the revolutionary and government forces, fighting about Hankow continues.

URGES RECALL OF JUDICIARY REV. RICHESON RESIGNS PULPIT

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 3.—Clarence V. T. Richeson, accused of poisoning Avia Linnell, publicly asserted his innocence for the first time since his arrest in the letter of resignation sent to the Immanuel Baptist church of Cambridge, of which he was pastor. The letter was made public by the finance committee of the church just after John L. Lee, associated with the defense, left for Virginia with the party statement that the jury that tries the minister will free him.

Miss Margaret Carter and Miss Clara Weaver went to Columbus yesterday.

AUSTIN DAM WAS FAULTY

Teacher of Civil Engineering Testifies Before Coroner.

Condersport, Pa., Nov. 3.—That the Austin dam was faulty in construction is opinion of the two engineers who testified before the coroner. Frank P. McKibbin, teacher of civil engineering in Lehigh university, said he had examined the Austin dam after the disaster and that he found it showed a faulty foundation composed in the main of sandstone and thin shale, and that many of the shale layers were rotten, that the base was level and not sloped to prevent sliding, that the cross sections were not heavy enough, that there were large horizontal construction joints that admitted water, that large stones of a poor nature were embedded in the structure, that its condition was such that in his opinion it was not safe to fill it more than half full of water. Professor Alfred D. Munn, department engineer of the board of water supply of New York, gave testimony which substantiated all that Professor McKibbin had said.

Turks Take Outer Forts.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The report that all the outer forts at Tripoli are in the hands of the Turks is confirmed in well informed circles here. The Italians hold the forts within the city.

More Than Gratuitous.

Apologies of the custom of some hostesses to invite professional artists to their house in the expectation that they will amuse their guests free of charge, a story is told of Mme. Bertie Bady, the famous Parisian artist, who was invited to a social gathering and asked by the hostess to recite. She consented, and then, in order that there might be no mistake about the matter, the hostess said:

"How kind it is of you to work for us in this friendly manner!" The emphasis on the word "friendly" was so marked as to show clearly enough that the service was to be gratuitous. After the recitation was over Mme. Bady took a silver card tray from a footman, and, imitating the musicians in the cafes chantants, she made a tour of the drawing room and collected whatever contributions were offered, and they were substantial ones. Then she handed them to her hostess and left the house.

Society News

Nellie Missionary Society.

The following account of the meeting in charge of the Nellie Missionary Society was sent in by the secretary:

The Nellie Woman's Missionary Society gave an interesting program last Sunday night. Mrs. A. L. Smith, Pres. of the society presided.

The music throughout was inspiring. Mrs. Ethel Gammetts-felder was pianist. A duet by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Johnston was much appreciated. An exercise by the different members revealed many facts relative to Mission work.

Very appropriate recitations were given by Miss Ethel Hauger and Miss Velma Kiesner. Miss Reed rendered a selection which dealt with the proverbial penny that finds its way into the missionary basket. A pleasing instructive and well-rendered exercise was given by Miss Blanche Burdhardt, Mrs. Harry Rodack, Mrs. E. C. Darling and Mrs. Nellie Moore. The value of missionary interest and zeal over selfishness and frivolity was well emphasized. Mrs. W. D. Kiesner read a selection—"Why I am a member of a missionary society."

Any one of the many reasons seemed sufficient, while all seemed to establish the fact that such is a Christian duty. Mrs. C. C. Wierick had an able paper on "Cuba" which gave a light to the subject which the society is studying. Another paper gave the testimony of many of the foremost Missionary thinkers and workers in proof of the fact that the church must advance and counteract many things or lose power both at home and on the mission field.

The pastor Rev. Athkinson gave a short but stirring address. He spoke from his own personal knowledge of the consecrated lives of the noble women who organized the Woman's Missionary Society of the Evangelical church.

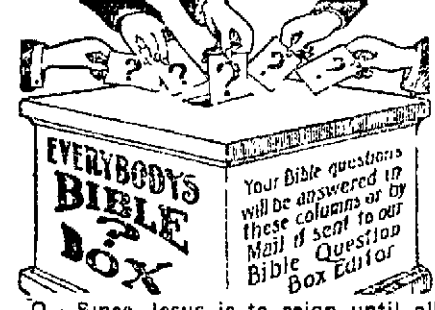

The offering was such that no pennies could boast of being among the most popular coins this time. The regular meeting of the society was held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Darling on Thursday evening Nov. 2nd.

Cooking Club Meets

Miss Sarah Boone was the hostess at a meeting of her Cooking Club at her home on Walnut street yesterday afternoon. At 5:30 a delicious course dinner was served. E. B. Kress of Brooklyn, N. Y. will spend Sunday in Coshocton, the guest of Miss Gail Hamaker.

Q.—Since Jesus is to reign until all enemies are put under His feet, and the last enemy to be destroyed is death (1 Corinthians xv. 25, 26) would it not prove that Satan and his hosts would be destroyed before death is destroyed, and that both would be destroyed during the reign of Jesus?

Answer.—The Apostle's argument is so clear and convincing in this fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians relative to the reign of our Lord Jesus and the object or purpose to be accomplished by that reign, that there is but one answer to the question and that one in the affirmative. It is apparent to all thinking minds that Christ's reign has not yet begun, for the Scriptures declare that during the reign of the Lord, the great adversary of the race, Satan, will be bound, and that in the close of that reign he will be loosed for a little season. A single glance over the conditions existing in the world will serve to convince anyone that Satan is still a very active personality. However, conditions in the next Age, the period of Christ's reign, will experience a radical change as gradually the evil, selfish elements are eliminated. The last of the evil things that have so long afflicted the race, death, and him that had the power of death shall be destroyed (Hebrews II. 14; Revelation xvi. 6).

DAILY FASHION TALKS

BY MAY MANTON

A FASHIONABLE GOWN WITH TRIMMING OF TAFFETA.

GOWNS such as this one will be much worn on the street during the mild weather as well as within doors, consequently the model is an exceptionally useful one. In this case it is made of striped silk and wool material trimmed with taffeta and combined with all-over lace. The effect is an exceedingly smart one and the combination of materials illustrates what is latest and best in the world of dress. The sash bow at the left side in this manner is one of the latest fancies. Altogether the costume is eminently chic. The blouse is one of the prettiest of the present sort. It is made with a center front portion that can be treated after the manner illustrated or made of two materials below the chemise of lace. The fancy collar is an attractive feature and the fact that the closing is made at the left of the front is a practical one. The skirt is five gored with slightly circular flounce, and in this case both the flounce and the front gore are made of the trimming material, but such treatment is by no means necessary, for the skirt is a simple one and can be made of one material throughout, or with the flounce only in contrasting material. It can be cut either with a high or natural waist line. For the medium size the blouse will require 2 1/2 yards of material 27, 1 1/2 yards 36 or 44 inches wide, with 3/4 yard of taffeta and 1/4 yard of all-over lace; for the skirt will be needed 4 1/2 yards 27, 3 3/4 yards 36, or 2 3/4 yards 44 inches wide, with 3 yards of silk 21 inches wide for the flounce and 4 yards of ribbon for the sash to trim illustrated.

*7089. Fancy Blouse 34 to 44 bust. 7018 Five Gored Skirt, 22 to 34 waist. A May Manton pattern of the blouse, No. 7089, in sizes from 34 to 44 bust, or of the skirt, No. 7018, in sizes from 22 to 34 waist measure, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents for each.

Sealshipt Oysters

During the oyster season instances continually bob up where unscrupulous oyster dealers quote prices on oysters to the public so worded as to lead them to believe they are affiliated with the "Sealshipt" Oyster System. As a rule these infringements of the trade mark are spelled in a slightly different manner, some of the most common ways that have come to our attention are like this "Seal Ship," "Seal-shipped," "Seal Shipped," etc. These oysters are generally the usual "soaked" stock with water drained off and put up fairly solid in common tin cans in a wooden box; sometimes it is an imitation carrier consisting of a keg or tub with a can in it.

The fact that men will resort to tricks of this nature is sufficient evidence of the kind of treatment that could be expected from them and clearly indicates the immense inroads the "Sealshipt" Carrier System has made on the old method of handling oysters.

"Sealshipt" Oysters conform to the Pure Food Laws in every respect.

The "Sealshipt" System enables the planter to get the oysters in their best condition to us and we are enabled to sell more oysters to our customers because we sell oysters absolutely fresh and true to their natural flavor as they come from the salt water.

We can supply these delicious oysters for church suppers, lodges or to any one in quantities of a gallon or more at $1.40 per gallon, but by the quart . . . 40c

POLITICAL BEDFELLOWS

There is an old saying to the effect that politics makes strange bedfellows. It is also true that politics makes some wholesome alliances. The present municipal campaign in this city finds lying in one litter, snuggled close and peacefully together, the City Republican organization, the Cassingham faction of the Democratic party and the German alliance.

At first glance one would be inclined to size these up as "strange bedfellows," but the bond of sympathy, the feeling of fellowship, the community of interests between these three is so nearly identical that it is not really a matter of surprise that they should be found together in the same bed.

The Republican organization has promised Mayor Cassingham to deliver the Republican vote of the city to him. He, in turn, has promised the Republican organization to defeat the Democratic members of council. The third member of the Triple Alliance has promised to do all it can to further both projects.

This is the alignment which confronts the voters of the city today. Democrats are to be delivered to Republicans and Republicans are to be delivered to Democrats. Machine rule is to be preserved at all hazards. When hard pressed both machines get together for mutual protection and a mutual division of the spoils.

How do the law-abiding, home-loving, responsible voters of the city like this sort of thing? What do the responsible elements in the Republican and Democratic parties think about it? Was this Jefferson's conception of Democracy? Was it Lincoln's conception of Republicanism?

Has principle and the memory of the great traditions of their parties wholly departed from these small cliques of irresponsible politicians that are neither Democrats nor Republicans?

DOES THE CITY OF COSHOCTON NEED DEMOCRATIC RULE, OR REPUBLICAN RULE, THE KIND OF RULE THAT IS LOOKING TO OFFICE, TO PATRONAGE, TO DEALS WITH MONOPOLISTS FOR THE PURPOSE OF TURNING OVER TO PRIVATE CORPORATIONS THE DIVIDENDS THAT NOW GO INTO THE PUBLIC TREASURY?

Haven't the people had enough of this sort of thing? Are we forever to go on in the same way, talking tariff, talking state politics, talking everything under the sun in municipal campaigns but the issues that concern the city's homes, the city's sanitation and the economical expenditure of the people's money?

Are the voters so many pawns to be moved about on the political chess board by the gambles of the bosses? Isn't it possible to conduct the municipal affairs of Coshocton without the small clique of men who are now so frantically trying to say who shall and who shall not be elected to office?

Government is made for the people and not for political machines. Many cities in this country have already tried the experiment of running their municipal affairs without the consent of the bosses and they have got so much better government and the public revenues have gone so much further than under the old way that they will never go back to it. Isn't it time Coshocton voters were getting abreast of the times?

PUMISHING THE PEOPLE'S SERVANTS

In a last expiring effort to save themselves with the voters of the city the evening papers are quoting Mayor Cassingham to the effect that he has at last receded in his fight for his corporation friends and backers and that he has bought a steam pump of the kind council all along has been contending for.

They have even gone so far as to say that a pump of the kind council specified has been contracted for and is now under construction. This will be news, good news, to the voters and taxpayers of Coshocton, if there is news, truthful news, in it at all. Approach any citizen in the streets, however, and he is from Missouri on this pump proposition.

When was this pump contracted for? Where is the contract? Where are its specifications? Who signed the contract? Who was authorized to sign it? Since when have manufacturing firms begun the practice of entering into deals of this kind, before the money is in the city treasury, or even before the bonds have been sold? How does it come that councilmen have never heard of the purchase of this pump and have never seen the mysterious contract?

Walker & Lawrence
"A Good Place To Buy Good Shoes"
AMERICAN BOY SHOES FOR BOY SCOUTS

The truth of the matter is just as several councilmen have put it. THERE HAS BEEN NOTHING DONE TOWARD THE PURCHASE OF THIS PUMP, EITHER BY COUNCIL OR BY ANY OTHER RESPONSIBLE MUNICIPAL BODY THAT CANNOT BE DONE BY A SUCCEEDING COUNCIL. THE COMING ELECTION WILL DECIDE THE PUMP QUESTION.

And that is the situation which confronts the city today. Nothing HAS been done so far toward the purchase of this pump which cannot be undone, AND NOTHING WILL BE DONE UNTIL AFTER TUESDAY'S ELECTION. NOTHING HAS BEEN DONE AND NOTHING CAN BE DONE BY ANY HUMAN AGENCY TOWARD SAVING THIS CITY FROM A REPETITION NEXT SUMMER OF THE INTOLERABLE CONDITIONS WHICH HAVE PREVAILED FOR THE LAST THREE SUMMERS—AND ALL BECAUSE PUBLIC OFFICIALS PREFER TO CURRY FAVOR WITH THE CORPORATE INTERESTS RATHER THAN DO WHAT THE PEOPLE HAVE LONG DEMANDED THEY SHOULD DO.

Partisan politics is not involved in the election of a mayor and council. The worst political elements in both parties have combined to elect a mayor and fill council with men who will not oppose the surrender of the city's one publicly owned utility to private ownership or control.

Such men as Reed, Dummermuth, Haulon, Gaumer, Wimmer, H. Heflinger, Compton, Stewart and such other candidates on either ticket as fail to suit their majesties, the bosses, are all slated for indiscriminate slaughter. And to what end? Because they have been untrue to their pledge to the people, because they have been unfaithful public servants?

For exactly the opposite reason. Solely because they have stood true to the trust imposed in them by the people and have refused to take their orders from either political machine.

Their defeat would be infamous. It would be to put a premium on grafting and dishonesty. Several of the men who are most interested in this fight against them have scarcely lived in the country long enough to be naturalized citizens.

They are to be punished for safeguarding the public property and the people's interests. It is not possible that the intelligent, thinking voters of this city are yet ready to hand the city over, bag and baggage, to a class of men whose sole object at times like this is the perpetuation of machine politics.

The people are to have no say in the matter. All they have to do is to swallow the dose prepared for them by a little clique of ten or a dozen men who have dictated to the city so long that they have come to believe they were born to dictate.

The city is going to vote Tuesday on whether it wants a continuation of official anarchy here, or government by law. To an executive official all laws should look alike, and all offenders should be treated alike.

A vote for Cassingham is a vote for a dry bathtub and a parched lawn one more summer. It's also a vote of approval for the increased insurance property owners were compelled to pay last summer—and are still paying.

The German Alliance has decided the waterworks question in advance. Vote for its councilmanic slate and you have voted to let the private interests in on the city's one publicly owned utility.

When executive officials and men clothed with the powers of magistrates begin to pick out such laws as it pleases them to enforce, they have set an example which is bound to cost someone dearly sometime.

Mayor Cassingham's practice has been to fine influential speakers and then remit the fine. When he fines workingmen for getting drunk, the fine sticks. Why is this?

MR STAATS REPLIES

Editor The Tribune—
Thursday morning's Tribune carried an article by Mr. Stengel in which he asks the voters of this county to beware of me. He says that I am a lawyer and he makes the complaint that the record of his candidate made while in public office has been attacked.

I know of nothing that has been published about the record made by his candidate but what is wholly and entirely true; in fact no part of it is denied by Mr. Stengel, but is admitted by him. If the record made by this candidate while being tried in public office is unsatisfactory to Mr. Stengel, he should not waste time trying to hide it from the people, but should drop his candidate and seek another more satisfactory.

As to his complaint that I am a lawyer, I have lived about 32 years on the farm and about 8 years in Coshocton. I had felt in my own mind that if my heart and inclinations were in the right place, the little knowledge I possessed of the law might come in handy were I elected delegate. However Mr. Stengel thinks differently, and he has a right to his opinion.

For my part I believe the delegate from this county will have ample use for all the knowledge he may possess, if he does his whole duty to the people of this county and state.

LEADS IN TARGET SHOOTING

Delaware Battleship Makes Best Record of Atlantic Fleet.
Washington, Nov. 3.—The Delaware, the pioneer super-dreadnought of the American navy, which established a world's cruising record on her journey to Chile and return last winter and an engineering record by her cruise to England for the coronation and return last summer, has won additional glory with her guns in the recent battle target practice off the Virginia capes. According to a statement issued by Lieutenant Commander Leigh Palmer, director of naval target practice, the Delaware stands at the top of the list of 20 ships of the Atlantic fleet. This is regarded by the naval authorities as extraordinary, in that the Delaware was the ship selected to fire against the armor of the San Marcos, resting on a shoal in Chesapeake bay, the range being from 14,000 to 17,000 yards. The firing was counted as a part of the regular practice.
The relative standing in percentage of the ships is given below: Delaware, 52.551; New Hampshire, 48.248; South Carolina, 45.191; Washington, 36.494; Vermont, 36.300; Louisiana, 30.933; Kansas, 30.818; Michigan, 30.787; Connecticut, 29.664; Georgia, 29.226; Minnesota, 24.810; Mississippi, 24.723; North Dakota, 22.293; Virginia, 19.514; Missouri, 19.357; Nebraska, 17.134; North Carolina, 11.290; Maine, 11.091; Ohio, 9.730; Idaho, 9.225.

CHEAP LOANS FOR FARMERS
Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—Norton T. Herrick again is urging his plan to reduce the cost of living. "Give the farmer long term loans at low rates," says Herrick. "This will promote scientific methods of farming and bring into cultivation land now idle." Herrick's plan is to form a company to make loans to farmers. He would follow the plan used in France since 1882, where loans are made for periods of from 5 to 75 years and at a low interest.
WET ON EXPRESS COMPANIES.
Washington, Nov. 3.—War on the express companies was opened by George J. Kinzel of Denver, Colo., a famous adversary of the railroads, who filed a complaint with the interstate commerce commission, alleging that the express companies make excessive charges on shipments from Denver to Missouri river points and to Chicago and Boston. He demands a general reduction, charging that the present tariffs are unreasonable and unfair.

FIGHTS ALIMONY

Says His Wife Married Him Because His Father Was Wealthy.

New York, Nov. 3.—George H. Mulligan, in an affidavit before Justice Bischoff in the supreme court, charges that his marriage was designed and contrived by his wife, Bessie Van Ness Mulligan, formerly a member of the "Beauty Spot" company, not because of her love for him, but solely because she understood his father was a millionaire and that the marriage meant "an easy way for her to get money."

Mulligan, through his lawyer, Louis S. Posner, opposed his wife's application for alimony pending trial of his suit against her for divorce filed some time ago. In his charges Mulligan declares that since their marriage Mrs. Mulligan has taken every opportunity to secure newspaper notices, and to have it known that she married the son of a millionaire, and that he has continually been referred to as "the million-dollar kid."

PROBE FOR NATION'S ILLS.

Business Men Plan Congress to Consider What Is the Matter.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—A business congress will meet Dec. 11 to consider what is the matter with the country and what remedial legislation will be asked of congress at the next session. A call has been sent out signed by George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial bank, George W. Sheldon, A. Volney Foster, E. Allen Frost, Frederick Bode, George W. Dixon and Philous W. Gates.

These five planks, it is thought, will be embodied in the business men's platform: Creation of an American merchant marine, promotion of American foreign commerce, currency legislation, permanent exposition of American products in Paris and transportation, including railways, waterways and wagon ways.

Origin of "Canard."
The French name for a duck is canard and a French journal recalls the etymology of "canard" in the pejorative journalistic sense. A Paris reporter once upon a time in the hot weather could find no news and he fell back upon his imagination. He published an account of a remarkable experiment conducted in a farmyard. A farmer took twelve ducklings, chopped one up and gave it to the eleven others to eat. A second was chopped and the remaining ten gobbled him up. For eight more days one duckling was served up to the others. At last, when only two were left, one of the two was given to the other to eat. This remarkable experiment resulted, therefore, in the one remaining duckling having eaten up his eleven brothers.

The story of the "Twelve Little Ducks" spring at once into fame. A "canard" in a newspaper has ever since meant a statement nearer fiction than fact.

Persia's Pipe Guardian.
The queen of pipes belongs to the shah of Persia. Why is the great chieftain of pipes a queen? Probably because pipe is a feminine noun in French. The little shah's pipe was smoked by his father before him, and by his uncle, and by his grandfather, and how many more of the rulers of Darius' kingdom we know not. The pipe is adorned with all kinds of precious stones and is said to be worth $10,000. It is constantly guarded by a high court functionary, whose duties allow him as much leisure as the superintendent of the Persian arsenal, but as there is no arsenal in Persia so the extent of the security may be judged. Still, this functionary is responsible. This is how his office was created: Once a grand vizier was found trying to pry out a stone from the pipe with his pincers. Then the office of guardian of the imperial pipe was created. What became of the grand vizier is not recorded.—London Globe.

A Comedy of Economy.
A comedy of economy is reported from St. Moritz. A stout couple, accompanied by a son and daughter who were also "thick," as the Germans translate stout, entered a crowded hotel at the busy time of lunch and ordered one lunch at table d'hôte. The father sat down and finished two helpings of soup and all the bread near him and left the table, his place being taken for the entrées by his wife, who had been waiting with her children in the hotel corridor until her husband appeared.

The young man then took his mother's place to attack the joint, and he was followed by his sister for the sweets, all doing justice to the menu. In the crowd the tourists did not notice the unusual lunch, but the head waiter did, and when asked for the bill presented one for four lunches. The paterfamilias grumbled a good deal—and paid!—Geneva correspondence Tall Mail Gazette.

PRESIDENT AT HOT SPRINGS

Taking Rest After Having Traveled Over 13,400 Miles.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 3.—President Taft brought his second long tour of the country to a temporary halt here. Mr. Taft expects a rest in Hot Springs until Monday, with nothing to do but play golf, motor and take every thing easy.

According to official figures of the "swing around the circle," kept under the direction of Secretary Hilles, the trip has been the longest ever taken by a president. Mr. Taft has traveled 13,400 miles.

Before he returns to Washington for the winter the president will visit Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, and will add 1,544 miles to the record. Mr. Hilles' "swing" figures show that Mr. Taft passed through 26 states and made speeches in 20 of them. The president was "on the road" 48 days since he left Beverly. In that time his train stopped at 20 cities, towns and villages. He made 308 speeches of all sorts and lengths, and according to Mr. Hilles' record he spoke to more than 1,500,000 persons, while almost 5,000,000 caught a glimpse of the chief executive.

Lightning's Queer Ways.
As every one knows, it is dangerous to stand near a tree during a thunderstorm, but if any one is so foolish as to do it he will do well to lean against the tree. If he does this the charge goes in at his shoulder, burning it, and then passes down the skin along the middle of the back. Arrived at the legs, it may run along one or both. It will seriously burn the knees and other prominent parts, get out through the stockings or bore a hole through the boots or destroy the boots altogether. But if he stands near a tree or wall without being in contact the stream of lightning may jump to the head bones and cause instant death. If it doesn't do this it will probably burn the hair and travel over the skin of the head, going down the front of the body or getting inside it and doing terrible damage.

DUNCANS LEAVE AMERICA.

Mr. Duncan Holds We Do Not Regard Art Serious Enough.

New York, Nov. 3.—The Raymond Duncans and their shivering little son Menalkas sailed for Europe on the La Savoy. The fondest and most affectionate of goodbys at the pier were interrupted while tearful huggers and kissers took a glance at their costumes.

Mrs. Duncan is a Greek; both she and her husband try to make themselves believe that they and poor little Menalkas of the blue shins are very ancient Greeks. Mr. Duncan wore a white tunic over a green robe. Mrs. Duncan wore a green tunic over a purple robe. The boy did not have any tunic. His robe, which ended above his bare knees, was also green.

Mr. Duncan said they were going to Paris to keep some lecture dates and that they would return to this country to settle up their affairs. After that, he said with some satisfaction, never again for America. Mr. Duncan holds that we do not regard art seriously enough. He has been of that opinion ever since the Gerry society arrested him here a year or so ago for not putting enough warm clothes on Menalkas.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart of this city was the guest of Miss Mary Kirkpatrick at West Lafayette Friday.

THE THEATRE

THREE TWINS

The merry musical play "The Three Twins" will be the offering at the Sixth Street Theatre on Tuesday, November 7. "Three Twins" is an adaptation of that famous farce "Incognita" set to the most charming music. Every number is so full of melody, that you will hum it for days after you leave it. Chief among them is the Yama, Yama, Man, and Cuddle Up a Little Closer. Miss Frederick (Gonz) rendering of the former number is a delicious bit of grotesque comedy. The company which numbers over 60 people, is headed by Harison Garrison, a most refined and finished comedian, who has the gift of being capable to act, sing and dance; a truly rare combination.

Election returns will be read from the stage.

"THE GIRL IN THE TAXI"

"The Girl in the Taxi" which comes to the Sixth Street Theatre for an engagement of one night November 9, is remarkable for its numberless complications. No play produced in recent years can boast of half as many situations to the act. Mix-up follows mix-up in such rapid-fire order that the audience finds it difficult to catch its breath between laughs. Indeed, were it not for the many delightful musical and dancing specialties interpolated throughout the piece there is grave fear that physicians might have to be called in to attend numerous cases of hysteria. One of the funniest situations occurs when John Stewart, a wealthy New York banker, who while pretending to possess all the domestic virtues, likes to have his little midnight lark, meets his supposedly innocent son Bertie, in a private dining room at the Cafe Churchill where father and son, without knowledge of the other, had gone to keep engagements.

"The Girl in the Taxi" is recommended as a tonic of laughter guaranteed to chase away the blues and make one the better for having seen and laughed at the antics and embarrassments of this fascinating lady and her jolly companions.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—Southern fast mail train No. 14 from Cincinnati to Jacksonville struck a broken rail at Chattahoochee, near Atlanta, and three men were killed and a number of passengers injured. The dead: E. O. Pryon, Atlanta, baggagemaster; Ben Briggs, Cleveland, Tenn., negro fireman; an unknown negro passenger. Among the injured are Kellie Woodson of Indianapolis, badly injured; Mrs. Molly Dyer, Johnson City, Tenn., leg injured, and John Houghland, New Albany, Ind.

Thornless Blackberry Bushes.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—The thornless blackberry bush has arrived. Luther Burbank, after 15 years of experimenting, has been able to produce it. While Burbank was showing a party of Australian boys about his garden at Santa Rosa he broke off some of the branches from the bush he was exhibiting. There were no thorns visible, the surfaces of the branches being as smooth as silk. The fruit is said to be of exquisite taste and quality.

Walter Parks and W. H. Lea, vengood of Fresno will go to Cleveland and Painesville today on business.
